Dear Parents and Carers

I'd like to take this opportunity to introduce myself as Stirling High School's new head teacher. I am delighted to be taking forward the great work of the school. As you know, Stirling High School has a long and proud heritage and over the years has contributed hugely to the Stirling community and beyond. I want to continue to develop this and to deliver continued success now and into the future.

I have experienced such a warm welcome from the young people, staff, parents and carers. I feel immensely proud of the efforts that our young people are making to do their best in their studies and in the wider life of the school. My immediate impressions are of a hard-working, focused school that has a welcoming atmosphere and an inclusive ethos.

I want to work with you to strengthen our school community of staff, pupils, parents, carers and partners. I am committed to working together to prepare our young people for life today and for the future through a wide range of experiences that our school offers to develop knowledge, skills, attributes and values.

My aim is to work with you to make Stirling High School the best it can be for our community. I am committed to developing a programme of improvement to raise attainment and achievement for all and to equip our young people with the skills, knowledge and abilities for them to succeed in their future careers.

Please contact the school with any questions or concerns and, if you are able to, join our Parent Council. I look forward to meeting you and working with you.

Yours sincerely,

Paul Cassidy
Head Teacher
